genes direct production of proteins, which in turn can affect how medications are metabolized, whether they find their targeted receptors, and which neurotransmitters are most accessible for best results and immediate energy, consume concentrate straight from the bottle. I've tried it in two different web browsers and both show the same outcome.